WITHOUT A WORD

Patrick McLaughlin Fell Unconscious Monday Night in Keeffe's Hotel.

HE LIVED 28 HOURS MORE

But Was Unable to Speak—Excessive Drinking the Probable Cause—His Funeral To-Morrow.

Patrick McLaughlin died Tuesday night shortly after 10 o'clock at St. Ann's hospital.

His illness was a peculiar one. McLaughlin was a laborer. For some time he worked with the section crew on the B. & P. railroad, and then for a time was employed at the power house, but for a week or 10 days he has been idle and spending his time and money in drinking. He had acted strangely for several days, but it seemed to be due to excessive drink, though he was never off his feet. He took his meals at Keeffe's hotel, but did not room there. Monday evening about 7 o'clock he passed through the sitting room and asked permission to change his clothes in a bed room at the rear of the place. John Kane, who was on shift at the time, told him he might do so. A few minutes later a chambermaid reported to Mr. Kane that a man was in that room on the floor and groaning. He went in and found McLaughlin there. They roused him up and got him on the bed. There was a wild look in his eyes and he could not make a word of sense. He simply pointed to his head.

They left him on the bed unconscious and no one thought any more about him until Tuesday, when a chambermaid told Mr. Kane that she was unable to make up the bed in that room because there was a man in it. Mr. Kane went back and found McLaughlin still there. He was still unconscious and Dr. Douglas was summoned Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock.

Dr. Douglas believed the man was suffering from alcoholic stimulant and gave him a hypodermic dose of heart stimulant as an antidote. The physician did not regard the man's condition as serious, but called to see him again in the evening and found the patient still unconscious. He then ordered him taken to the hospital at once, which was done, but within an hour after his arrival at the hospital the man was dead.

McLaughlin was not a man whom anyone could have any object in putting out of the way, and there was no indication that death was due to other than natural causes. An inquest was not considered necessary.

William Dougherty, a respected citizen of Anaconda, a distant relative of the deceased, claimed the body. The funeral will be held this afternoon from Theodore Ehrhart's undertaking rooms at 2 o'clock, and services will be held at the Catholic church.

A POSTAL NOTE.

How to Send the Greatest Standard By Mail.

"I wish you would tell the readers of the Standard," said Postmaster Edwards to the reporter yesterday, "those who send the paper in the mails, that since the enlargement to the Greatest Standard, they cannot send two papers for a 1-cent postage stamp. It takes 2 cents for two papers, and is a tight squeeze at that."

"To send the Sunday paper alone, one stamp has all it can carry in weight." "We have a great stock of papers, held up in this office for lack of sufficient postage. These packages give us no little trouble, as we have to store them away for weeks at a time."

"Paper mail is not handled as letters are. When a letter is mailed with a 2-cent stamp on it, if it is overweight, we simply stamp it, 'Due, 2 cents,' or '4 cents,' as the case may be, and send it along. The person to whom it is addressed then has the deficiency to pay before the letter will be delivered to him. A newspaper, however, or a bundle of newspapers dropped into the postoffice with insufficient postage stops right there. The postmaster sits down and writes a postal card to the address on the package, which says: 'Dear Sir—There is a package mailed at this office to your address, on which there is due — cents postage. Please remit stamps to pay same, and the package will be forwarded to you.' Then if he sits down and encloses the necessary stamps and sends them to the postmaster, he will in due time get the package of papers, in a week, more or less, from the time they were mailed. It has cost, besides the wasted stamp, a postal card from the government, and a 2-cent stamp, from the one addressed, to return the stamps necessary."

"People seem to think that a 1-cent stamp will take all the old papers they can wrap up, and usually pack up all the old ones in the house into one package."

"So please tell them for me that the Greatest Standard requires 1 cent on every paper of 12 pages. One cent will still carry the Sunday paper of 16 pages, but if more are mailed there must be additional postage attached, 1 cent for each issue of the paper."

HARRY LECK DEAD.

The Sad Intelligence Received Yesterday From Minneapolis.

A telegram was received yesterday by Fuller S. Leck announcing the death of his brother, W. H. Leck, in Minneapolis, where he was taken recently for medical treatment. F. S. Leck started for the East via the afternoon train to attend the funeral. The deceased was a well-known citizen of Anaconda, where, for many years, he has been prominent as a contractor and builder. He leaves brothers and other relatives in this city who will have the sympathy of many friends. He has been an invalid for several years, but bore all his sufferings with meekness and without complaint. The interment will be made either in Minneapolis or in Halifax, N. S.

FELL INTO A CELLAR.

Horse and Wagon, the Man Had a Narrow Escape.

D. C. Gray and Frank Gervais, the oil wagon and a horse, had a very exciting time of it yesterday afternoon in the rear of the Cress drug store. A big tank was on the footboard of the wagon and Mr. Gray was holding the horse which is new to the oil business. In making a turn the line caught on the tank and the cayuse began to back.

Gervais tried to catch him and Gray tried to loosen the line, but the animal was too quick for them and before it could be prevented backed himself and the tank backward into the excavation being made for the Winston block. Mr. Gray jumped from the seat, and the horse dropped 10 feet or more into the cellar. The wagon poised on the brink partly caught by a scaffolding below. When an inventory was taken after it was all over, no damage was found. The men, horse and wagon all had a very lucky escape. The horse was excited and finished the afternoon's round in the shafts.

An Exaggerated Report.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 30.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Live Stock association, the following was adopted:

"Whereas, Largely exaggerated reports have been put into circulation as to the importation of Mexican cattle into Texas, and

"Whereas, Said imports are calculated to depreciate values in Texas cattle; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That after careful investigation of the matter, this committee feels justified in making the statement that the importation of Mexican cattle along the entire border from Oct. 22 to Dec. 31, of this year, will not exceed 100,000 head, and consequently will not, in the least, affect prices or in any way prove detrimental to the cattle interests of the state."

The Attorney Explains.

Special Dispatch to the Standard.

Bozeman, Oct. 30.—Will M. Fleisch-hauer, the prominent Bozeman attorney who disappeared last week so suddenly, has returned from his remarkable trip. He has explained all the alleged shortage, has made everything right which stood against him and will endeavor to live down the bad odor given to his name by his experience.

His troubles were entirely the result of the poor quality of Bozeman whiskey, as he was very drunk when he left here, but upon sobering up he at once returned to his home. His accounts were not in such bad shape as to have caused him any trouble.

Silver's Chance.

London, Oct. 30.—Over $8,000,000 will be transferred to-morrow to Japan by the Bank of England as the first payment of the Chinese indemnity. It is thought probably $3,000,000 will be shipped immediately to pay for ships and war material. It is expected the balance will be used soon in payment for more ships and munitions already ordered. It is not considered likely any gold will come out of the banks, but it possible some gold will be used for the purchase of silver.

Tacoma's Absconter Arrested.

Tacoma, Oct. 30.—Ex-City Treasurer George W. Boggs has been arrested at Central Point, near Jacksonvile, Ogn., by Sheriff Barker. He readily gave himself up on hearing he was wanted.

CITY COUNCIL GRIST

Contract Awarded for the Foundation of the New Hall.

THE MAYOR IS SUSTAINED

An Appeal From the Decision of the Chair—Petitions Granted and Refused—Shall the Ordinances Be Compiled.

A short session of the city council was held last evening at which considerable routine business was transacted. The chief business of the meeting was the consideration of bids received for the construction of the foundation for the new city hall. There were three bids opened which were as follows:

Dolan & Hamill.....$1,629.00
Dwyer & Cosgrove.....1,796.35
J. Tiefenbacher.....1,559.00

On motion of Alderman Walkup the bid was awarded to the lowest bidder, J. Tiefenbacher, with the understanding that if he failed to qualify with bondmen before Monday night, the contract should be given to the next lowest bidder, upon the filing of proper bond.

The petition of George F. Lyman and others for an electric light on upper Locust street was granted and the light ordered.

A request for permission to hang a sign over a sidewalk was denied to Manager Moore of the Rocky Mountain Telegraph company.

Brennan & Gettings were given permission to make an addition to the Auditorium.

The prayer of Wills and Gnosse for permission to build platform hay scales on Commercial avenue opposite their store, was not granted.

The street and alley committee made a favorable report, but Alderman Leiser filed his objection and Alderman Shovlin followed suit. Wills & Gnosse agreed to build the scale so that it would not obstruct the street, and to dig ditches so that the water could flow by, but the opposing aldermen held that this would not be possible practically. Alderman Walkup and Alderman Williams championed the cause of the petitioners. The vote was as follows, on a motion to grant the permission: Aldermen Walkup, Williams, Rom and Cox, aye; Aldermen Leiser and Shovlin, nay; Alderman Lappen not voting.

Mayor Thornton declared the motion lost, ruling that it required a majority of the whole council to allow the request. Alderman Williams appealed from the decision of the chair, but on his appeal Aldermen Lappen, Cox, Leiser and Shovlin voted to sustain the mayor's ruling against Aldermen Walkup, Rom and Williams.

Alderman Shovlin introduced a resolution that the city ordinances be compiled and published. They are now so scattered, in clippings, scrapbooks, etc., that outside of the official ordinance book there is no complete copy of the city laws. He said that this condition could not be found in any other city in the land of the importance and size of Anaconda. Alderman Leiser was not willing to oppose the resolution, but he asked that it be referred to a committee. After some debate, spirited in nature, the alderman from the Third ward won his point. Mayor Thornton appointed on the committee Aldermen Leiser, Shovlin and Cox.

The council then adjourned. The next meeting will be the regular one, the first Monday night in November.

Navajo Blankets

I am now prepared to fill orders for these excellent blankets. They are beyond doubt the hardest wearing goods made in the world, and being thoroughly water-proof are especially adapted for outside wear. For stock and wool men or any one camping out where their bedding is exposed to the weather—a Navajo blanket is indispensable—being pure wool and entirely made by hand. The Navajo Indians have made these blankets on their reservation in Arizona for the past 50 years or more and their products stand at the very highest point of excellence. There is absolutely nothing in the blanket line that will wear equal with them. In fact a "Navajo" will last a lifetime. I buy them direct from the Indians themselves and can consequently make the lowest possible figures on these goods. The common Navajo in ordinary colors, white, black and colored stripes, I sell for 50 cents per pound. The finer grades I sell in high colors from $1 to $2 per pound, according to grade and finish. A few old Mission Navajo's in stock in rare colorings from $5 to $100.

Blankets sent to any address, express C. O. D., with privilege of examination. ANDREW JENSEN, Great Falls, Mont.
